

Indigestion May Be Due to Constipation

Neglect of Important Function May Seriously Impair The Health

There are many people who believe that indigestion is really due to a constipated condition. Bloat, with its attendant mental depression, sick-headache, the belching of sour stomach gases, etc., are frequently due to indigestion of the bowels. Relieve the congestion and the trouble usually disappears. The use of cathartics and purgatives should be avoided, however; these shock the system unnecessarily and, at best, their effect is but temporary. A mild laxative is far preferable.

The compound of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended. Mr. Benj. Bassin, 300 Madison St., Gary, Ind., thinks Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin a wonderful medicine; for four years he had a severe case of indigestion and constipation before trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which he is glad to recommend to all who suffer with stomach and bowel trouble.

BENJ. BASSIN

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should be in every home for use when occasion arises. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. E. Caldwell, 484 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Trolley Station and Railroad Waiting Room Entered—Coin in Telephone Pay Station Taken and About $14 From Railroad Station.

During the earlier hours of Tuesday the trolley station at Elm and Outer streets and the waiting room of the railroad station were entered and the receptacles as well as the coin in the telephone pay station were taken, also the coin in the weighing machine at the railway station. Entrance to the trolley station, where in is located the Hyde store, was gained by cutting out part of a pane of glass in the front door, then sliding back the catch and opening the door. Just how much cash was taken with the telephone attachment is known only to the telephone company. The waiting room in the railway station was entered by forcing the window sufficient to break the iron catch. It is understood that the total amount of cash taken is about $14.

Coroner E. A. Kingsley Finds William Kalimus Blameless in Accident Which Caused Francis Waller's Death—Insurance Company to Pay Mrs. Waller $1,500—Why Change in Trolley Fares Was Ordered Delayed.

William Kalimus, chauffeur for Henry Harding, of Bridgeport, and Brightman's Pond, who was driving the automobile that struck and fatally injured Francis Waller when on the Post road, on Tuesday night of last week, was exonerated by Coroner E. A. Kingsley, Tuesday, and given his freedom. Soon after the mishap Kalimus was threatened bodily harm. He became thoroughly frightened and secreted himself for two days and then surrendered to Chief of Police Thomas B. Brown and was delivered to the coroner, who ordered him held, pending investigation and he was domiciled in the police station.

Coroner Kingsley carefully examined Kalimus and a number of witnesses. After an exhaustive investigation the coroner appeared his report and submitted it personally to Attorney General Herbert A. Rice in Providence, Monday afternoon. All the testimony was carefully reviewed and the result was the discharge from custody of Kalimus.

While at the police station for five days, Kalimus was given the freedom of the corridor in the cell room, which is well-heated, lighted and ventilated, and was accompanied to a restaurant at meal times, and at no time was treated as a prisoner, but rather as a favored detained person. In spite of this treatment he wrote to a friend in Bridgeport that he was locked up in jail, was cold and hungry and asked that his overcoat be sent him so that he could keep warm and an effort made to secure for him better treatment. This friend telephoned to Chief Brown in relation to the matter and upon ascertaining the facts and the added information that Mr. Harding, his employer, and a local attorney were endeavoring his interests and caring for his personal comfort, the Bridgeport friend concluded not to come to Westery, or less the complaint of Kalimus.

When the representative of the insurance company, in which Mr. Harding had taken out a policy to provide against accident and resultant damage, appeared in the court, he stated so far as he could learn, the insurance company was not responsible for the death of Francis Waller. However, he had learned that Mrs. Waller and her two children were in a destitute condition and that the insurance company would render them some assistance. Later Attorney Samuel H. Davis instituted a suit in damages, stated at $10,000 against Henry Harding, in the interests of Mrs. Waller and her two children. Attorney John J. Dunn has been engaged as counsel for defendant, who is backed by the insurance company.

At a meeting of all parties in interest, held Tuesday afternoon an agreement of settlement was reached. The insurance company to pay Mrs. Waller $1,000 and $500 for expenses, which included funeral expenses, lawyers' fees and incidentals.

As a result of protest received from commuters in Connecticut and Rhode Island along the line of the Norwich & Westery Traction company, writes a Washington correspondent, the Interstate Commerce commission has issued an order suspending from November 1 until February 29, 1916, the tariff of the Norwich & Westery line that is on file in the commission's archives and numbered I. C. C. No. 7-P. This tariff, the commission says in its order, contains numerous regulations and practices affecting fares and charges, which would have become effective November 1 but for the commission's order.

The suspension and the protest upon which it was based are directed particularly at provision on page 2 of the Norwich & Westery's tariff reading as follows: "School commutation ticket books cancelled on interstate traffic and regular rates will apply." The effect of this provision of the tariff, it is stated, would be to increase the fares that are paid by persons riding from one state to the other along the line of its road. The commission held that the rights and interests of the public appeared to be unduly affected by the change in tariff as proposed.

Therefore, the commission decided to make an investigation and give a hearing in connection with the matter. Pending that it suspended the tariff so that the rights of the commuters would be protected. It is now up to the Norwich & Westery line, writes the correspondent, to justify its proposition to cancel school commutation ticket books for interstate passengers, and to stop the sale of such tickets. Officials of the commission say that these tickets have been used by many school children, but that they can be and have been used by many other persons, who are not students enroute to and from school, but who are on business or pleasure bent. It is said these tickets have been sold without regard to the age of the purchaser.

In due time the commission will give a hearing on this case when the commuters and the railroad company can present their respective cases through attorneys and the case will be decided by a legal character. If the commission should eventually find that the change proposed by the railroad is unjust and illegal its suspension order would be made effective for two years.

Judge Edward M. Burke held a regular session of the Westery Probate court, Tuesday afternoon, when Merle A. Rogers and Melinda Bance, beneficiaries of the estate of Charles Gilbert Tanner, presented release of their claim to the executor, Anne B. Tanner, and Mrs. Tanner release of herself individually to herself as executrix. The release was received for record with the estate.

Bertha M. Barr and Ties Steadman, executors of the estate of Lorenza D. Richmond, petitioned to sell articles in the inventory for cash on delivery, at not less than the inventory price. The petition was granted.

The first and final account of Charles A. Gavitt, executor of the estate of Harriet Le Young, and the first and final account of Fanny A. Burdick, executrix of the estate of Harry A. Burdick, were received, allowed and ordered recorded.

The inventory was received and ordered recorded of the estate of James N. Dunham.

44 years. He was a brother of Colonel Albert N. Crandall. Burial will be in Brookfield, N. Y.

Coroner Kingsley, in his preliminary report on the death of Francis Waller, states that the car of Henry Harding has been operated in Westery under a Connecticut registration for the past two months and that William Kalimus did not have a proper driver's license.

The surgical dressings committee of the Rhode Island section of the National Civic Federation, leave will open a branch in Westery next Friday and make bandage material for the wounded soldiers abroad. This will not conflict with the work of the British Relief society.

There will be a social session Thursday evening at the residence of Miss Alice Edith Kennedy in Newton avenue, of the Christian Endeavor society of the Broad Street Christian church. The gentlemen will furnish refreshments and the ladies will provide a musical, literary and social entertainment.

George J. Goulet, a trainman on the Federal express that arrives in Westery Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings of the present week, is a model worthy of emulation. Just before the train leaves New London, bound east, he calls out every stopping place between New London and Providence and the terminal in Boston in a clear, deliberate and measured tone. His announcement is very readily understood and appreciated as is also the calling of the stations along the route.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

Infant Son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald Choked to Death By Rubber Nipple—New Houses on Keefe Place.

Walter Richard Fitzgerald, the two and one half months old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald, of Stafford street was choked to death on Tuesday morning by a rubber nipple.

The mother had frequently given the child the nipple without the bottle and as it was a little fleshy yesterday morning she allowed it to have the nipple thinking that it would keep the child quiet. She was soon attracted by the child's distressed condition. It took some time before a physician could be located and when one did arrive it was too late. The child died in about an hour.
